$2500.00 Fire.

At a few minutes before ten Thursday evening, an alarm was rung from Box 35 which proved to be a fire in the shop of Carl A. White who recently took over the interests of A. J. White & Son. The fire department was quick to respond and soon had water on the flames, which had spread rapidly aided by the highly inflammable contents of the building. Within thirty minutes from the time the water was turned on the fire was under control but so stubborn was the element it was after eleven o'clock before the water was shut off. The rain of the day was a boon to the surrounding property holders, as it hindered greatly the possibility of a conflagration which would have been inevitable. Had the buildings been dry and the fire started two hours later Newport would have suffered a great loss as the buildings surrounding the shop are all wooden structures and very near. The department is deserving of great praise for the very efficient work in preventing the total destruction of the building. Mr. White places his loss at about $2500 as there was no insurance. This amount will be the total loss. The machinery was practically uninjured by the fire but the belting was a total loss.
